

D Home

Issue Date: D Home OCT 2008, Posted On: 10/2/2008

		<h2>Get Thee to an Art Gallery</h2>
		Dallas Donors: Which candidate scores with local business leaders.
		The State of Our Real Estate
		King Tut Comes to Dallas

Gallery Talk

There's a lot of cause for celebration this month. The kids have settled into their routines, the weather has cooled down, and you've found the perfect rhinestone-encrusted cowboy halter for Cattle Baron's Ball. Why not celebrate with an art purchase? Over at Marty Walker (2135 Farrington St. 214-749-0066. www.martywalkergallery.com), Andrew Bennett's soot and smoke paintings provide a "discourse on conscious manipulation and chance" with organic patterns, curls of smoke, and intricate design (Oct 18-Nov 15. Tue-Fri, 11 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sat, noon-5 p.m.). Walker also has German artist Marc Lüders' Berlin Wall series, which combines painting and photography. (Bennett's Dissolution Commeth, soot and epoxy on aluminum, pictured above, left. Lüders' Untitled oil on ilfochrome photograph, below.)

